

CHURCH NEWS AND NOTES

Next Sunday, September 24th, will be observed in many churches throughout the United States and Canada as "Rally Day" for what has come to be known as "The Men and Religion Forward Movement." It is doubtful whether in the history of Christianity there has been undertaken such a mighty Christian campaign to win the men and boys of a country into allegiance to Jesus Christ. Ninety of the leading cities of the country have been organized each with a committee of one hundred of the leading Christian laymen. Beginning Sunday, September 24th, with Rally Day and continuing steadily through the winter months until "Conservation Day" Sunday, April 12th, there will be held in these cities, one after the other, eight-day campaigns in which a force of a dozen of the ablest religious leaders of the country will participate. The local committee of one hundred will cooperate by going out in delegations and visiting near-by cities and afterwards by carrying on the work when the evangelistic party has passed on.

Honolulu is too far removed to be included in this circuit but a number of our leading laymen have determined to fall in line and do what can be done to create a local interest in this national mission. To sound the key note the regular morning service in this church next Sunday will be devoted to this movement. There will be four short addresses on different phases by four laymen who have had opportunity of giving special study to it. We hope the men of the church will manifest their interest by being present in large numbers next Sunday morning, and inviting others to attend, especially the young men and boys, of their acquaintance.—Central Union Church Calendar.

The Epiphany Guild met at the residence of Mrs. A. F. Clark, Twelfth Ave., Kaimuki, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

On Tangents.
Substantiating his statement that people of twentieth century America are as prone to get off on tangents in matters relating to religion as were the people of the first century Corinth, the Rev. Amos A. Ebersole, assistant pastor of Central Union church, who preached the sermons yesterday, declared last evening that the narrowness of church creeds is in itself responsible for much that makes for the hindrance rather than the development of church life. For those people who wish to be affiliated with the church merely because of the precedence it brings them, the church creed is a very convenient thing, but on the other hand, it keeps many sincere people who would be excellent and conscientious workers out of the church merely because of the fact that they cannot bring themselves to accept it as a whole, he declared.

Rev. Ebersole made a strong plea for a larger Christianity, naming faith, hope and love as the three great essentials.

The offertory solo, "The Lost Chord," was given by Miss Collins in a highly acceptable manner. The pipe-organ accompaniment added considerably to the beauty of this number.

In preparation for the regular autumn communion service at the Central Union church, the standing committee will be in the church parlor at 7:30 o'clock this evening to meet all those who desire to unite with the church at this time, either by letter or confession of faith.

The Rev. Elmer Smith, of the Methodist Episcopal church, concluded his sermon series on the Lord's Prayer last evening, taking as his theme, "The Great Deliverance." This was the seventh sermon in the series.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Central Union Church held its regular monthly song service at Leahi Home yesterday afternoon.

The regular meeting of the Bible Class of the first Methodist Episcopal church is announced for Wednesday evening at 6:45 o'clock. The prayer service will follow at 7:30 o'clock.

KING STREET TO BE LEVELED

King street from Alapai to a point where it passes Thomas Square will be leveled and placed in better condition, following upon the efforts of a squad of road department employees who have been set at work on the job this morning.

The surface of the street has become very uneven through wear and tear of traffic. In warm weather, oil and macadam do not always form a very stable pavement. The surface of this street has become irregular and for a considerable distance the roadway is so uneven that riding over it is far from being termed a joyous one.

the end of this year. Three of the ordinary inspectors have been started out and the commission hopes to be able to see the way clear to replace them with other men for the time being.

The way in which the sanitary maps are being prepared in comprehensive throughout. The inspectors take the underwriters' map out with them on their "beats" and carefully note down every house and outbuilding in its exact position. They also mark off the nature of the surrounding land and in the case of cultivation say what it is. These maps are then brought into the office and the whole of the details placed on a fresh map from which blue prints are made.

These blue prints are further divided into smaller sections and one is given to each man. He then takes with him three printed sheets of questions. These cover everything from the general state of the house right down to the smallest details. When the inspectors have filled in their smaller maps they will be brought in and placed on the final map. This will then show just exactly what state any particular house or part of that house is in and will be the basis for the work of the sanitary commission in making up their final report.

It is a long job but the men have instructions to get it through as soon as possible and already there are four of the first corrected underwriters' maps available for them to divide into sections and get to work on. When the last piece is done and the final big map completed Honolulu will have the most complete record for health purposes that it is possible to have.

LET THE SUN DO YOUR HEATING

Letting the Gold Dust Twins do your work is all right, but it does not come up to letting (also forcing) Old Sol heat your water for you. Simplest thing you ever heard of, still one of the most scientific. Old Sol stands ready to do it for you. All you want is the apparatus, and this is supplied by W. B. Craw, who has salesrooms in Emmelhuth & Co.'s store on King street.

There are hundreds of advantages to the housewife in having hot water any time she wants it, and that without a single move on her part outside of turning the hot-water faucet. The sun water heater is appearing on the roofs of many new buildings throughout the city, and is a great boon to those who dislike cold baths.

The monthly official board meeting of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held in the parlors of the church at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

SAYS INDEPENDENT IS FIREPROOF

The manager of the Independent Theatre, commenting on what the morning paper had to say regarding the conditions of the theatres of this city in case of fire, said to a Bulletin reporter this morning: "The Independent theatre is as new fire-proof as it is possible to make it. In fact, there is nothing to the theatre but the chairs and the stage. There is no roof, and the sides are formed by the brick walls of the adjoining buildings on either side." Speaking further he said, "There are three exits, and they are not locked up tight as is stated in the Advertiser, but are simply held shut with a small hook that a child can unfasten. Also, that the chairs are not loose, but are fastened together with a 1x3 piece of lumber. The box where the films are run is thoroughly fire proof, being constructed of iron and concrete. I know nothing about the other theatres."

THEATER AUDIENCES SAFE IN HONOLULU

"There is no more danger from a fire in the Savoy than in a ten acre lot," said J. A. Maxson this morning referring to the talk on the evolution of the local moving picture theatres. "The Savoy has mighty little in it that could burn. The walls are of corrugated iron. The chairs are practically on the ground, and what is on the stage would not make a good sized bon fire. The Bijou has very little that is inflammable about it, and the Park. The Empire of course is more like the theatres of the mainland. If any exit doors in any theatres were locked, that of course is reprehensible, if true. But I am very certain that there is hardly a place on earth where the audiences at moving picture and low priced vaudeville shows are so safe as they are right here in Honolulu."
